ed details of her news in the Battimore Sun: England The new Minister to the United States, Sir HEN-RY BULWER, had sailed from Portsmouth in the steamsloop Hecate, for this city, according to the Hants

Telegraph. The first business of Sir H. Bulwer, envoy to the United States, on his arrival, will be to know what encouragement, if any, the United States have given to the attempted withdrawal of Canada from the British rule. It is understood that he has full powers to resist, energetically, all attempts at interference on the part of the United States in the Nicaragua af-

It is also understood that the British Government has intimated to the Governor of Canada that no coercive measure will be adopted to prevent an annexation to the United States, if the popular will be decidedly expressed in favor of that measure. The British Parliament is prorogued until the 10th January next. The Queen has issued a proclamation for a day of general thanksgiving, on the 15th December, on account of the abatement of the cholera in England and Ireland.

France has been quiet under the extraordinary circumstances which occurred in the capital. Orders have been forwarded to the French Government, for a steam frigate to proceed to Portici, to be placed at the Pope's disposal, as he appears decided to return immediately to Rome. Mr. Rives, our Ambassador, has been received by the French Government.

The President, on the 3d, installed the Judges in the Palais de Justice, on which occasion he made the following remarks:

"Messieurs,-I am happy to find myself this day in the midst of you, presiding over a solemn ceremony, which, in reconstituting the magistracy, restores a great principle momentarily ignored. In agitated Hear it: epochs, when the notions of just and unjust are confounded, it is useful to keep up the character of great command of human ambition. Forms change, things remain. In despite of the political tempests which have taken place since 1815, we enjoy our present tranquil state of political existence by virtue of the large institutions founded during the consulate and the empire. Dynasties and charters have passed; that which has survived has saved us. These are religion, the organization of justice, of the army, and of the administration. Let us then honor that which is unchangeable."

It is said that personally the President is strongly in favor of taking the most decided stand in regard to the dispute between Turkey and Russia. On the 5th instant the President said to his new related by a Cincinnati paper, as follows:

"A fellow goes on board of a steamer preparing to leave, when the passengers are on board, taking his seat among them, and is supposed to be a traveller himself. Soon he complains of the toothache.-The pain gradually increases in intensity, the face of the suffering man is distorted with agony, the passengers sympathize with him, good-hearted lady passengers fumble their trunks for camphor, toothache drops, &c., which they offer, assuring the ailing man they are specifics, and will cure him. They afford no relief whatever. From a dull pain it has grown acute and sharp, until the fellow fairly dances. Now is the time the confederate appears. A small mahogany box is opened, and a few drops of liquid up-on a piece of cotton is inserted in the aching tooth. Armstrong, Jas D Glossup, Wm The pain ceases instantly, the healed man is profuse in his expressions of gratitude, and purchases two or three vials of the inestimable toothache drops. The other vaunts his liquid, and soon effects a sale of the contents of his box. The two confederates meet afterwards and divide the spoils."
